His training has lead him to learn from Tap greats such as Henry Letang and Dr. Jeni Legon, and learn from hip hop giants the groovalos and Beat Freaks in Los Angeles. Since moving to Vancouver in 2003, Shay's background in Tap, Hip hop, and contemporary dance has lead him to perform for Naughty By Nature, Science Friction, MmHop with Martha Carter, Battery Opera, Mascall Dance, Animals of Distinction directed by Dana Gingras, MovEnt and Neil Young. His choreography has seen him create for 25th anniversary West Beach Fashion show, International Dance Day in Vancouver, Dancing on the Edge Festival, "Romp" Festival in Victoria, International Dance Festival of Brazil, New Works' "Arts on the Street", for BC Day and for Music week in Toronto. Shay is currently part of the Vancouver based 605 collective, a hip hop/contemporary company currently in residency in Vancouver and Montreal's Usine C.
